Modern geographical

April 30th, 2018 - Modern geographical information system (GIS) is a computer-based system that analyzes and displays geographically referenced information. It goes beyond the basic mapping of locations to provide analysis of spatial data and the ability to update and manipulate digital data. GIS technology is used in a wide variety of fields, including urban planning, crime analysis, public health, and environmental management. GIS is also used in the private sector, such as in the real estate industry, to analyze and display property data. GIS is a powerful tool for understanding the world around us and for making better decisions about the future.
